Overview

Project Description: I was in a chat and one day and the topic of MBTI types came up. Soon enough everyone in the room was taking a online test to determine their type. As the results came in it became clear that many in the room had types that were rare in the general population. I independently began collecting the data. Wanting to learn more about databases, I've chosen to build a small MySQL database to house the data. Wanting to learn more about web development, I've chosen to build this small site with PHP and HTML to display the results.

Development Languages: PHP (with JpGraph), HTML, CSS, MySQL.

Development Tools: Git, Sublime Text 2, Sequel Pro, MacBook Pro.
